

Buffer Land Broom Bash

Sunday, March 23 – 10:00am to 1:00pm

The Buffer Land

Join us on March 23 for the first community effort against Scotch broom and other invasive nasties. The Buffer Land is a 113.5 acre property owned by Metchosin. You can help restore this wonderful natural area!

How to get there?

Access to the Buffer Land is from Neild Road, about 0.7km after turning off Happy Valley Road.

What do I need?

A limited number of tools will be available at the pull. So, if you have loppers (like those shown), please bring those. Bring gloves. Bring good footwear. Bring attitude: "Scotch Broom - Adios!"

Please RSVP

In order for us to plan and prepare, we'd like to know how many community members are participating. Please send confirmation to: jshukin@Metchosin.ca
